

IMAGINings!

A Publication of The ImagiNation Network

December 1994

VOL. 2 • NO. 12

Whether you've been naughty or nice, Santa will answer your letters this year via E-mail on The ImagiNation Network.

To put in your special requests, write to Santa in care of ImagiNation at E-mail Box 123. But hurry – if you want a personalized response to arrive in your mailbox before December 25, you should write no later than December 15!

Last year, Santa was quite busy, answering hundreds of letters from kids of all ages. We thought you might enjoy reading through some of the letters sent last year to the Jolly Old Man...

Dear Santa,

I am a 41-year-old little kid. Dig around in your pack and see if you can find me a tall blonde who looks like Meg Ryan.

And while I'm making your job hard, I'd like a new BMW (style doesn't matter) and a cruise to the Caribbean sometime this winter.

And just so you'll know, I've never stopped believing in you. Merry Christmas!

SANTA HAS E-MAIL!

Dear Santa,
My name is Jason and I'm three years old. My daddy is helping me write this letter to you. Here's what I want for Christmas.

A Big Wheel

A gun and holster set

A pair of cowboy boots

A cowboy hat

A big swing set for my backyard

And a real horse.

I want to call him Wings.

I hope you can find these things at the North Pole because we're going to leave milk and cookies out for you – my mom said she'd make some.

I love you Santa!

Dear Santa,

The only thing I want for Christmas is for my little brother to get well and come home from the hospital.

My dad says he'll be OK, but I'm worried about him.

He needs a new TV for his room, some cowboy pajamas and a whole bunch of board games like Monopoly, Scrabble and CandyLand. If you could find a deck of cards, we could play War or Go Fish together.

If he does get to come home and you have any extras, I still like dolls and my dollhouse is falling apart.

And don't forget that I leave cookies and milk out for you every year.

TAKE CARE

This winter, you're likely to spend more time than ever cozier up to the keyboard. You know what they say about an ounce of prevention. Proper posture and equipment can help you minimize the risk of repetitive strain injury. So sit up straight, don't slouch at the keyboard, and support your wrists with a pad so the tops of your hands are nearly flat.

AT&T BUYS IMAGINATION

– WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

You've probably already heard the word: The ImagiNation Network is a wholly-owned subsidiary of AT&T.

"We couldn't be happier about the news," says Tom Pomeroy, Vice President of Marketing and Sales at The ImagiNation Network. "That's because the partnership allows us to give our members even more in terms of services and support."

What else does it mean for ImagiNation members? Some answers to the most commonly-asked questions:

Q: What happened exactly?

A: AT&T announced on November 15, 1994, that it plans to purchase all of the shares of The ImagiNation Network from Sierra On-Line and General Atlantic Partners. This is a "friendly" agreement, and when the deal was complete, after a government-imposed "waiting period," The ImagiNation Network became a wholly-owned subsidiary of AT&T.

Q: What does it mean?

A: AT&T's investment will help The ImagiNation Network carry out plans to expand membership and improve the Network.

Q: How will this affect me as a member?

A: For the most part, members won't be aware of many changes immediately. You will begin to notice some exciting growth and upgrades to the services already available to you.

Q: How does this affect pricing?

A: No announcement can be made on pricing until the transaction is actually complete. This delays any pricing revisions you may have heard about.

Q: Does this mean business as usual?

A: Yes, it does. AT&T is buying The ImagiNation Network because both companies are the leaders in what they do. There are no plans for that to change at all.

This winter, we're having a White Christmas all the way from Miami to Maine.

In case you haven't noticed, the ImagiNation map you see after you've signed onto The ImagiNation Network changes with the seasons if you have the current version of ImagiNation.

In the winter, when the ImagiNation pond ices over, skaters cut endless circles on your computer screen. Come autumn, the leaves turn and fall to the ground. During the summer, a couple of kids toss a baseball back and forth. And in the spring, flowers dot the emerald-green lawns.

We'll give you a peek now – a reminder that spring is just around the corner.

A S K

Fred

HEY FRED:

Why is it that we get so many newsletters? I get Imaginings from the post office. Then I get the INNSider, the INNNews and the TrnyTyme on E-mail. Why don't we have just one newsletter?

– Drowning in mail

Dear Drowning:

Good question. I put the question to the people who actually put together these newsletters. Here's what I found out – each of them has a different "raison d'être" (that's "reason for being" for everyone out there who flunked French in high school!)

Here goes: Imaginings, the newsletter you're reading right now, is where you go for a behind-the-scenes look at The ImagiNation Network. TrnyTyme is where you find out who won what and what's coming up in online tournaments. INNSider is where you tell that special someone Happy Birthday, "I miss you," or anything else. And INNNews is the place for the very latest in news from ImagiNation. Got it? OK!

HEY FRED:

Red Baron is my favorite game, but I've been hearing some not-so-nice rumors about the game. What's the deal?

– Top Dogfighter

Dear Dogfighter:

From one Red Baron fanatic to another, I'm happy to say the rumors about The ImagiNation Network dropping Red Baron are just that and nothing more. In fact, I found out that with Version 2.4, we're even getting a new "Free-for-All" Red Baron. I can hardly wait.

No one I talked with could even figure out how the rumor got started, but you know how some people are. Talk, talk, talk. (Aren't you glad you came to the "Fredspert-expert" on this one?!!)

Got a question for Fred, your "In the Know" guy in The ImagiNation Network? Write to Fred in care of Imaginings at E-mail Box 915 or 577 Airport Blvd., Suite 300, Burlingame, CA 94010.

Totally Team Bridge

You asked for it, now you've got it. Team Bridge will at long last be available on The ImagiNation Network in the upcoming Version 2.4 available in early 1995.

In Team Bridge, two teams of four or more players challenge each other. One "pair" of one team sits "North-South" at one table. The other sits "East-West" at the other table. The same cards are played at both tables, and scoring is based upon how well each team scored with those cards, compared to the other team.

As you might guess, Team Bridge is a game where skill, not cards, determines the winner.

ImagiNation's Team Bridge begins with an eight player invitation. The inviter (North at table one) chooses a partner and two teammates, as well as two opponents who will be East-West at table one. Other exciting features:

- ♥ Teams of more than four players can switch players halfway through a match.
- ♠ Results are saved after each hand, so that you can pick up where you left off if the game is interrupted for any reason.
- ♦ Each of the players can choose their own names for the save file that keeps a record of the game.
- ♣ Choose from the three major forms of scoring: International Match Points, Board-A-Match and Total Points.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?

When you play Team Bridge on The ImagiNation Network, you can choose from three forms of scoring: International Match Points (IMP), Board-A-Match (BAM) and Total Points.

Which one should you choose? It depends on how well you play and what style of game you like best.

The most straightforward is Total Points, where your team's scores on all hands are added together and compared to the other team's total.

In IMP scoring, your relative plus or minus score on each hand is converted from the raw score using a sliding scale. And in BAM if your team has more points in a hand than your opponent's, you win a BAM point and the team with the most BAM points wins.

SHOOTING IN SHANGRI LA

The Eric Lawton Celebrity Conference

Eric Lawton found his own Shangri La by traveling around the world. Some highlights from the conference held live on October 30:

EricLawton: My book, The Soul of the World, has been out for about a year now and has brought me in touch with a lot of travelers. I've been meeting with other artists and travelers in order to discuss our reactions and impressions of the remote parts of the world. Have any of you seen the book?

MikeB: I have the book. Yes, the pictures are amazing!

Joem: Mr. Lawton, what is it like to travel the world?

EricLawton: It's one of the greatest experiences that I have ever encountered, particularly when you can find enough time to really get to know a place. I was lucky to be able to spend three years on the road traveling through over 70 countries. It gave me the chance to spend time in a place, get to know the people, and remain until it was time to go. For me it is that "dwelling time" that gives the truest insight into a place.

MikeB: Who, would you say, are some of your greatest influences?

EricLawton: My early influences in photography came from Life magazine and the work of Eugene Smith, who did the great photographic essays in the 1960s. Other great influences include Paul Caponigro, whose mystical landscapes are truly inspiring. Other photographers who really have influenced me have been Jerry Uelsmann, whose surrealist photographs I find to be some of the most profound.

lp: What is the most "spiritual" place that you have traveled?

EricLawton: I have found many "spiritual places." Those that I found overseas include Bhutan, which is nestled between India, Nepal and China, and which is the closest thing to Shangri La that I have ever found.

Eric Lawton writes, "The sacred Himalayan mountain Machapuchare (22,958 ft.) has never been climbed. Nepali legend holds that goddesses reside on its peak."

Let the Games Begin
 As the Imagination Network has grown, the number of online tournaments and clubs has skyrocketed.
 It's simple to register your tournament or club: write to the Club Registry at E-mail Box 699, or drop us a line at Imaginations, 577 Airport Blvd., Suite 300, Burlington, CA 94010.

What's a Conference?
 A conference is like listening in on a party line – but it's OK to drop in with a comment when you like. In conferences, people with similar interests share their ideas about a favorite subject – anything from games to TV shows to dating tips.

BEAT THE RED BARON...

All Red Baron fanatics, listen up. Blaster magazine is sponsoring a "free for all" Red Baron tournament during the month of January.

The good thing about a "free for all" is that you can play as often as you like during the month, keeping your personal best score for the final tally.

Prizes are forthcoming for the top players.

Look for more details in the "INN Tournaments" posting of the Pilots Lounge bulletin board and the "INN Special Events" bulletin board in the Help Room.

Remember, you can't take the top prize every month! Winners in one month are disqualified from taking the top prize for the next month so that everyone gets a chance. Contests void where prohibited by law. Employees of The ImagiNation Network are ineligible.

Holiday Hopefuls

Think you know your partridge in a pear tree from plum pudding? Planning a date this New Years Eve with Dick Clark? If the answer is "yes" we'd like you to play NTN Holiday Trivia in ImagiNation this December.

As always, we'll reward the winners with cool prizes. But remember that the real fun is in the playing. Check online listings for times and places.

New Rooms Open Up

Some of your favorite haunts in The ImagiNation Network have new names.

We renamed several of the rooms in October. Here's a list of the old and new rooms so that you can find your old friends.

The Tree House became the Card Crib.

Euchre II became Flip N Checkers.

Go Sierra2 became Go Mages Den.

IMAGINATION!™ Year In Review

As each year draws to a close, I like to take a few minutes to look back and see what's worth noting. At The Imagination Network, we've got good reason to look back with pride at what we were able to accomplish together in 1994.

What stands out for me is the way we've been able to dramatically expand and improve services to our members. This year, we inaugurated exclusive online Celebrity Conferences. From the voice of TV's Bart Simpson to master photographer Eric Lawton, we've put you in direct contact with some of the most interesting people around.

For the chess and bridge enthusiasts, we've put together live online coverage of major tournaments. At the same time, we've added online events like NTN Trivia and the Lion King animation contest to give all of our members, young and old alike, the opportunity to develop - and show off - new talents learned via The Imagination Network.

Plus, we've added 9600 baud access rate and a more reliable back end to our huge computer system. And, we've made it even easier for newcomers to get around, with a new program called HOSTS.

The big news, of course, is that AT&T chose to make The Imagination Network a wholly-owned subsidiary. (For more info, see the article on page 2) As we continue to grow together, look for even more things in store for 1995, starting early in the year when Version 2.4 will become available.

Now, that's what I'd call glad tidings for the new year.

See you in Imagination!

Tom Pomeroy, a.k.a. TomP: Tom Pomeroy is the Vice President of Marketing and Sales at The Imagination Network.

Fresh Face

Version 2.4 will be coming to everyone in Imagination in early 1995. But some of you may already have caught a glimpse of it because our systems operators, INN University instructors and HOSTS are testing the new software. Once we're satisfied the upgrade is just right, we'll ship it to all of our members. Meanwhile, please be patient. Even if you call or write, we can't ship the new software until it's ready!
